GAME BREAKDOWN: The Vikings come into this one having beaten Green Bay just once in the teams' nine meetings since 2010. They're 1-4 ATS in Lambeau in that time, the lone ATS win coming in a 26-26 tie last November while Packers QB Aaron Rodgers was out. Rookie QB Teddy Bridgewater threw for 317 yards in his first NFL start Sunday, a 41-28 win over Atlanta—he's expected to play despite spraining his ankle in the fourth quarter of the win. The Packers are one of only five NFL teams averaging fewer than 320 total yards per game, but they've had to go up against three of the NFL top six defenses over their first four games.

EJ Manuel is out as Buffalo's starting quarterback, and veteran Kyle Orton is in—Manuel completed less than half his passes and threw two interceptions in a 23-17 loss to Houston on Sunday. The Lions are coming off a 24-17 road win against the Jets and enter this one with the NFL's top-ranked defense. GAME BREAKDOWN: The Cardinals head to Denver to take on the Broncos Sunday afternoon with both teams fresh off bye weeks—Denver has won-and-covered in four straight games when playing after bye weeks. Arizona should have quarterback Carson Palmer back from a shoulder injury, which would bode well for a team that was able to pick up two crucial victories with journeyman Drew Stanton under center. These teams have met just five times since 1992 and the Broncos have owned this series, going 4-1 SU and ATS in those games. GAME BREAKDOWN: The Chiefs and 49ers have met just four times since the year 2000. The most recent meeting between these teams was September 26, 2010, when the Chiefs won 31-10 as three-point home underdogs. The 49ers defense has been stifling at times this season, allowing just 217.5 passing yards per game and 69.8 rushing yards per game. The Chiefs will try to establish running back Jamaal Charles early, but could have difficulty against a tough 49ers' run defense that's one of only two in the league giving up an average of fewer than 70 rushing yards per game. The Jets are now up against a Chargers defense that allowed just 319 total yards in a 33-14 blowout over the Jacksonville Jaguars. The Chargers caused three turnovers in that game and will look to do the same against erratic New York quarterback Geno Smith. StatFox Dave StatFox Dave is one of the original four founders of StatFox and over the years has been renowned for his handicapping prowess in all sports. Dave was especially strong in the college sports last season, posting a 55% ATS mark (38-31-2) in 2013 CFB Best Bets. This included a hefty 77% ATS record (17-5-1) on college football games that were not part of the marquee games grid above. Dave then went on to nail 62% ATS (70-43-2) in college basketball Best Bets. Dave is 58% ATS (11-8) in NFL Best Bets in 2014, and was 12-3-1 ATS in CFB marquee grid games last week.

StatFox Gary

StatFox Gary joined the StatFox and the Platinum Sheet staff prior to the 2010 football season, and subscribers were certainly happy he did: He proceeded to post a 55% success rate on NFL Best Bets in his "rookie" season. Gary finished strong in NFL Best Bets last season as well, going 67% ATS (16-8-2) after Week 9. He did the same thing in college basketball Best Bets with a 63% ATS mark (30-18) after Feb. 5 to finish with a 57% ATS record (64-49-2) in CBB Best Bets for the season. Gary is 71% (5-2) in NFL Totals this year, including a perfect 3-0 in Week 4 action.

StatFox Scott

Last year marked Brian's second straight 60% ATS (41-27-6) season record in NFL Best Bets, but it was his college basketball prowess that really stood out in 2013-14. Brian finished with a remarkable 69% ATS record (76-34-5) on CBB Best Bets for the season, a mark that including an eye-popping 77% ATS record (44-13-4) after Jan. 17. StatFox Forecaster

By weighing several key factors, including recent statistical averages, schedule strength and home-field advantage, the StatFox Forecaster has proven to be an extremely successful long-term handicapping tool. It's most accurate once a season is underway, as evident by winning records in all four sports' featured Platinum Sheet games last year. The Forecaster correctly predicted the ATS winner for 59% (149-105-12) of all NFL games, 57% (151-114-8) of all CFB games, 53% (207-181-12) of all NBA games and 51% (189-183-11) in college basketball last season.

Here are the StatFox Power Rating lines and edges for this week's games, with our exclusive home field advantage points built into each home team's rating and corresponding line. Note that the point edge between the Power Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

Statfox College Football Outplay Factor Rating Lines - Week 6

 The Outplay Factor Ratings made famous by StatFox are a great Team Strength Indicator as they provide a quantitative measure of how teams are outplaying (+ value) or being outplayed by (- value) their opponents. They are determined by a complicated formula that takes into account a team's points for/against as compared to how their previous opponents have fared. Here are the StatFox Team Outplay Factor Ratings and the corresponding game lines derived from them. Note that the point edge between the Outplay Factor Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Arizona stunned the Ducks in Tucson last November. As 18½-point underdogs, the Wildcats forced three Oregon turnovers (including two Marcus Mariota interceptions) and controlled the clock for more than 35 minutes in a 42-16 win. Arizona has been a bit shakier this year, needing a Hail Mary to beat Cal at home in their last game. Redshirt freshman QB Anu Solomon (63.4% comp., 13 TD, 3 INT) has been strong against weak defenses. The Ducks struggled to edge Washington State on the road in their last game.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Arizona 27	• Rich Rodriguez is 1-11 ATS after gaining 525 or more total yards/game over their last 3 games.
	Oregon 41	• OREGON is 7-0 UNDER after gaining 6.25 or more yards/play in 3 consecutive games over the L3 seasons.
		• Rich Rodriguez is 1-8 ATS after 2 or more consecutive straight up wins as coach of ARIZONA.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Cardinals were without QB Will Gardner (knee) last week, as Louisville turned to the ground game in a home win over Wake Forest. Back-up QB Reggie Bonnafon was only 16-for-32 for 206 yards, but the Cards rushed for 215 yards in a 20-10 win (but ATS loss). Syracuse is coming off back-to-back losses, at home to Maryland and home-away-from-home in East Rutherford, N.J. to Notre Dame. They allowed 523 yards of offense to the Irish last week, losing SU and ATS, 31-15, despite forcing five turnovers.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Louisville 23	• LOUISVILLE is 13-3 UNDER as a favorite over the L2 seasons.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Despite recent dominance against Utah State, BYU has failed to cover in four of its last five games against USU. The one ATS win was last October, a 31-14 road win as touchdown underdogs. Aggies star QB Chuckie Keeton tore his ACL in the game. BYU has looked a bit shakier in its last two games, especially in allowing 519 yards to Virginia in a 41-33 home win two weeks ago. Keeton is questionable with soreness in the same knee with the repaired ACL. He didn't play in last week's 21-14 loss at Arkansas State.

Barrett has competed 74.2% of his passes for 642 yards and a 10-to-1 TD/INT ratio. Ohio State scored 66 against Kent State and 50 against Cincinnati. The Hokies have generally won with defense, but they've scored at least three touchdowns in every game this season. When these teams met in Blacksburg a year ago, Tech won 27-17 as an eight-point home favorite. GAME BREAKDOWN: N.C. State nearly pulled off a monster upset last week, taking a 10-point lead in the second half against Florida State before losing 56-41. The Wolfpack had 520 yards of offense against an elite Florida State D. They have covered each of the last four years against Clemson. In his first career start, freshman QB Deshaun Watson had a huge day for the Tigers (435 yards, 6 TDs, granted it was against a North Carolina defense that could be the nation's worst). Clemson allowed 394 passing yards to UNC in the win.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	North Carolina State .... 25 Clemson 49

Wisconsin drilled Northwestern in Madison last year, 35-6, holding the Wildcats to 241 yards of offense while they rolled up 541. Last year in Tuscaloosa, the Tide pitched a 25-0 shutout against Ole Miss, holding the Rebels to 205 yards of offense and forcing two turnovers. GAME BREAKDOWN: Mississippi State has built a reputation for coming up small against the country's best, but they already snapped a long losing streak against LSU. They'll face an A&M team that looked vulnerable against Arkansas last week. Aggies QB Kenny Hill pulled out a 35-28 OT win in the end, but completed just 51.2% of his passes. The Bulldogs have had 500-plus yards of offense in each of their four games. They had 302 rushing yards at LSU. A&M allowed 240 rush yards to Rice and 285 to Arkansas.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Florida has a QB controversy. After an awful performance against Alabama in the Gators' last game, Jeff Driskel could give way to freshman Treon Harris. Regardless, they'll need a better effort out of a defense that allowed 450 yards to Kentucky at home, and 672 at Alabama. Tennessee has dropped nine in a row SU against Florida (3-4-2 ATS). GAME BREAKDOWN: Auburn extended its SU home winning streak to 12 last week, but had a home ATS winning streak snapped at seven in a 45-17 victory over Louisiana Tech. Their new-look passing game has yet to deliver a 300-yard game this year. Auburn lost at LSU last September, 35-21 with QB Nick Marshall turning it over three times. They've only played one game against a power conference opponent this year, trouncing Minnesota 30-7 at home. Oklahoma continues to roll up big offensive numbers, gaining 510 yards of offense in a 45-33 win at West Virginia before last week's off week. GAME BREAKDOWN: UCLA found its rhythm on offense last week, hanging 62 at Arizona State. QB Brett Hundley, playing through an elbow injury, threw for 355, rushed for 72, and accounted for five TDs in the win. Last year at Utah the Bruins had 404 yards of offense in a 34-27 win and cover. Utah QB Travis Wilson threw six interceptions in that loss. GAME BREAKDOWN: A year ago, Sun Devils QB Taylor Kelly threw for 351 yards and three scores in ASU's 62-41 win over the Trojans in Tempe. But Kelly (foot) might miss a second straight game. In his first career start last week, Mike Bercovici impressed by leading ASU to 626 yards of offense, though he turned it over three times in a 62-27 loss to UCLA. USC bounced back from an upset loss at Boston College by trouncing Oregon State, 35-10, last week despite 14 penalties. The Trojans have covered in six of their last eight home games.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Michigan limps to New Jersey with their head coach in the cross hairs after two brutal SU losses, Utah and Minnesota, both at home. They've also dropped their last three games outside of Ann Arbor SU, dating back to last season. QB Shane Morris was atrocious in last week's Minnesota loss, his first career start (7-for-19, 49 yards, INT). He might give way to Devin Gardner again. Rutgers has fattened up on cupcakes early.
