The ratings are typically not as reactive as those you will find elsewhere, and thus prove to be a great long term handicapping tool. Here are the StatFox Power Rating lines and edges for this week's games, with our exclusive home field advantage points built into each home team's rating and corresponding line. Note that the point edge between the Power Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

Here are the StatFox Team Outplay Factor Ratings and the corresponding game lines derived from them. Note that the point edge between the Outplay Factor Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Falcons can clinch homefield throughout the playoffs with a win on Thursday night. They're coming off their best performance of the season, completely destroying the Giants at home. And Atlanta has been very good on the road all season, going 5-2 SU and 4-2-1 ATS away from home. The Lions continue to find new lows. They were blown out in Arizona last week, as their offense has fallen apart. They're running out practice squad-caliber receivers opposite Calvin Johnson, and their defense and running game continue to stink. They've lost six in a row SU (1-5 ATS).

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Saints are pretty much playing for pride at this point, while the Cowboys continue to fight for their playoff lives. The Saints snapped a three-game losing streak in a big way, shutting out the Bucs 41-0 at home last week, but they're just 2-5 SU and 3-4 ATS on the road this season. The Cowboys, on the other hand, haven't exactly had much of a homefield advantage of late. Their overtime win over Pittsburgh last week was their only cover in their last 10 home games, dating back to Thanksgiving 2011.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Packers have suddenly gotten hot again. They've won three in a row, SU and ATS, including a solid win at rival Chicago last week, 21-13 despite Mason Crosby missing two makeable field goals. Their defense has allowed just 15.7 PPG over those three wins. They haven't lost a home game SU since the season opener, going 4-2 ATS in that span. Tennessee is just 2-5 SU and ATS on the road this season, and QB Jake Locker has been inconsistent all season, but he's struggled badly away from home (70.4 passer rating).

They've generally beaten bad teams on the road, with wins at Detroit, Jacksonville and Tennessee and losses at Houston, New England, Chicago and the Jets. GAME BREAKDOWN: Both these teams are coming off miserable Week 15 performances. The Rams couldn't tackle Adrian Peterson, while the Bucs couldn't do anything right in a lopsided loss at New Orleans. Tampa is in the midst of a late-season collapse, dropping four in a row SU (0-3-1 ATS). They've dropped two straight at home, though the losses (to Atlanta and Philly) came by a total of three points. The Rams had a three-game winning streak snapped by the Vikings last week, and they've managed to cover in their last four road games (2-1-1 SU).

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Panthers are starting to look like the playoff team they thought they would be four months ago. They manhandled Atlanta at home two weeks ago then absolutely dominated the Chargers in San Diego last week. They've won three of four SU and ATS (and the Falcons win snapped a five-game home losing streak). The Raiders snapped a six-game SU and ATS losing streak by shutting out the Chiefs at home last week. However, they're only scored one touchdown in the past two games and are 2-10 SU and ATS against teams who aren't the Kansas City Chiefs.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Patriots will look to bounce back from a tough home loss to the Niners and stay in the hunt for a first-round playoff bye. New England is 5-2 SU and 5-1-1 ATS on the road this year and they're averaging 36.6 PPG away from home. The Jaguars are once again completely incapable of moving the ball. Even with No. 1 receiver Cecil Shorts returning to the lineup last week, they failed to score a touchdown at Miami. The Jags have a total of 31 points over the past three games. GAME BREAKDOWN: The Ravens are in complete disarray right now. They've lost three in a row, SU and ATS, and they seemed to press the panic button of firing offensive coordinator Cam Cameron prior to last week. Things weren't better under new OC Jim Caldwell last week, as they couldn't move the ball until garbage time in a 34-17 home loss to the Broncos. The potential return of LB Ray Lewis (triceps) could give them a needed boost defensively. The Giants are coming off an absolute dud of their own, getting shut out 34-0 in Atlanta. They've been awful on the road, getting outscored 82-29 over their last three road games.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Adrian Peterson will continue to chase history, this time against a Houston run defense that has been less than stellar. Because they often have the lead the Texans haven't had a lot of teams try to consistently run on them, but they are allowing 4.1 yards per carry and allowed 124 to a subpar Colts running game last week. Houston can clinch homefield throughout the playoffs with a victory. They've been awfully tough at home all year, going 6-1 SU and 5-2 ATS. Matt Schaub continues to be excellent in home games, where he's completing 69.4% of his passes with a 13-to-4 TD/INT ratio.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Washington showed they could win without Robert Griffin III last week, crushing the Browns in Cleveland. Griffin (knee) is questionable for this week, though rookie back-up Kirk Cousins threw for 329 yards with a 104.4 passer rating in last week's win. The Eagles took a step back in last Thursday's mistake-filled home loss to the Bengals, losing four fumbles and gaining just 221 yards of offense. The extra three days rest might give them a bit of an edge going into this one, but they were positively destroyed in Washington in Week 11, turning it over three times in a 31-6 loss.

GAME BREAKDOWN: This one is pretty close to a playoff game, as these two teams battle for a wild card spot. The Steelers have absolutely owned the Begnals over the past three seasons, beating them five times, SU and ATS. They won in Cincinnati in Week 7, 24-17, in a game that wasn't nearly as close as the final score would indicate. The Steelers outgained Cincy 431-185, and completely shut down the Bengals by simply doubling WR A.J. Green. Though Pittsburgh's injury-ravaged secondary could open the door a little bit more for QB Andy Dalton, who has a 48.8% completion percentage in three career games against the Steelers.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Broncos will be big favorites as they look for their 10th SU win in a row. They're 7-2 ATS during their nine-game win streak, and they dominated the Ravens in Baltimore last week. They're 3-0 SU and ATS against the AFC North so far this year, and they've topped 30 points in five of their six home games so far this year. The Browns seemed to be building some momentum with three straight wins but were miserable on both sides of the ball in a home loss to the Redskins last week. When the teams met in San Francisco in Week 7, the Niners smothered Russell Wilson in a 13-6 victory, as the rookie went 9-for-23 for 122 yards and an INT. The Niners got their running game going in the second half of that game to take the lead. GAME BREAKDOWN: The Cardinals broke their nine-game losing streak with another unusual win last week, scoring two defensive touchdowns in a 38-10 win over the Lions. While rookie QB Ryan Lindley was awful again, he at least managed to avoid the multiple killer turnovers that plagued this team the past few weeks (he was 14-21 for 104 yards, no TDs and one INT). The Bears are once again fighting for their playoff lives, dropping three in a row even with Jay Cutler back under center. They failed to score 20 points in any of those losses, and Cutler has struggled badly in back-to-back games.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Jets should enjoy hosting a Chargers team they've beaten twice during the Rex Ryan era. When these teams met in New York Week 7 last season, the Chargers jumped out to a 21-10 halftime lead only to have the Jets outscore them 17-0 in the second half, led by RB Shonn Greene's 112 rushing yards and a defense that held the Chargers to 268 yards of offense. And San Diego is coming off possibly the worst offensive performance any team has had in 2012. Playing at home against Carolina's struggling defense, the Chargers gained just 164 yards of offense, and RB Ryan Mathews (broken collarbone) is out for the year.

StatFox Dave

StatFox Dave is one of the original four founders of StatFox and over the years has been renowned for his handicapping prowess in all sports. Anyone who signed up for our NBA postseason Best Bets certainly knows that to be true, as Dave racked up a 59% success rate on all picks (including a perfect 5-0 in the NBA Finals) and an astounding 66% success rate on Best Bets during the NBA postseason. Dave also knows his pigskin, finishing better than 52% in all college football games last year. Dave has been solid in NBA Best Bets, at 22-19-1 ATS (54%) since Nov. 27.

StatFox Gary

StatFox Gary joined the StatFox and the Platinum Sheet staff prior to the 2010 football season, and subscribers were certainly happy he did: He proceeded to post a 55% success rate on NFL Best Bets in his "rookie" season. Football isn't the only sport at which Gary excels, as he finished the 2011-12 college basketball regular season with a 156-99-1 (61%) record on all picks, which included a gaudy 54-25 ATS mark (68%) on college basketball Best Bets. Gary is sizzling in NBA, going 61% ATS (27-17-3) on Best Bets for the year. He's also on a 6-3 run in NBA Totals.

StatFox Scott

StatFox Scott serves as Managing Editor for Stat-Fox, Platinum Sheet and the Edge Football Preview Guide, and is coming off a 2011 college football season in which he was 53% ATS on Platinum Sheet Best Bets. That followed a 2010 season in which his college football Best Bets success rate was 59%. Scott also had a strong NFL playoff run, going 7-4 ATS (64%). Scott had a 2011-12 college basketball regular season for the ages, going 56-23 ATS record (71%) on Best Bets. This year, he's potent in NBA too, going 55% ATS in Best Bets, and a stellar 38-22 (63%) on Totals.

StatFox Brian

A featured writer on Stat-Fox.com and for Platinum Sheet, StatFox Brian has yet to suffer a losing season of Platinum Sheet Best Bets in either college football, NFL, college basketball or NBA since coming on board in 2010. His most recent success earlier this calendar year was a 49-30 record (62%) against the spread on college basketball Best Bet picks. He still flexed his NBA muscle, however, as StatFox Brian racked up a 31-16 ATS record (66%) on NBA Best Bets prior to the All-Star break. Brian is starting to find his way in NBA Best Bets this year at 52% ATS (35-33-3).

StatFox Forecaster

By weighing several key factors, including recent statistical averages, schedule strength and home-field advantage, the StatFox Forecaster has proven to be an extremely successful long-term handicapping tool. It's most accurate once a season is underway, as evident by an ATS success rate of 61% (123-79-6) on all 2011 NFL regular-season games played between Sept. 25 and Dec. 31. In the last NBA season, the Forecaster caught fire for a 200-game stretch between December and April, nailing better than 58% ATS (114-82-4). This season, it's 53% (50-45-1).

StatFox Dave

StatFox Dave is one of the original four founders of StatFox and over the years has been renowned for his handicapping prowess in all sports. Anyone who signed up for our NBA postseason Best Bets certainly knows that to be true, as Dave racked up a 59% success rate on all picks (including a perfect 5-0 in the NBA Finals) and an astounding 66% success rate on Best Bets during the NBA postseason. Dave is currently on an amazing 10-0 ATS run in college hoops Best Bets from Dec. 9-16. That puts him at 55% ATS (48-39-2) in college basketball Best Bets for the season.

StatFox Gary

StatFox Gary joined the StatFox and the Platinum Sheet staff prior to the 2010 football season, and subscribers were certainly happy he did: He proceeded to post a 55% success rate on NFL Best Bets in his "rookie" season. Gary also has a knack for college over/unders, finishing the bowl season 4-1 in his Best Bet totals. Football isn't the only sport at which Gary excels, as he finished the 2011-12 college basketball regular season with a gaudy 54-25 ATS (68%) mark on Best Bets. He's also been tremendous this year at 57% ATS (26-20) college hoops Best Bets.

StatFox Scott

StatFox Scott serves as Managing Editor for Stat-Fox, Platinum Sheet and the Edge Football Preview Guide, and is coming off a 2011 college football season in which he was 53% against the spread on Platinum Sheet Best Bets. That followed a 2010 season in which his college football Best Bets success rate was 59%. Not merely a one-sport pony, Scott had a 2011-12 college basketball regular season for the ages: He racked up a whopping 56-23 ATS record (71%) on Best Bets. From Dec. 14-16, Scott was an outstanding 5-1 ATS on college hoops Best Bets.

StatFox Brian

A featured writer on Stat-Fox.com and for Platinum Sheet, StatFox Brian has yet to suffer a losing season of Platinum Sheet Best Bets in either college football, NFL, college basketball or NBA since coming on board in 2010. His most recent success earlier this calendar year was a 49-30 record (62%) against the spread on college basketball Best Bet picks. He also flexed his NBA muscle by racking up a 31-16 ATS record (66%) on NBA Best Bets prior to the February All-Star break. He's starting to heat up in college hoops, going 13-9 ATS (59%) on Best Bets since Nov. 30.

StatFox Forecaster

By weighing several key factors, including recent statistical averages, schedule strength and home-field advantage, the StatFox Forecaster has proven to be an extremely successful long-term handicapping tool. It's most accurate once a season is underway, as evident by an ATS success rate of 61% (123-79-6) on all 2011 NFL regular-season games played between September 25 and the end of December. In the last NBA season, the Forecaster hit better than 58% ATS (114-82-4) between December and April. It's on a 3-week CBB run of 24-20-1 ATS (55%).
