Here are the StatFox Power Rating lines and edges for this week's games, with our exclusive home field advantage points built into each home team's rating and corresponding line. Note that the point edge between the Power Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

Statfox NFL Outplay Factor Rating Lines - Week 3

 The Outplay Factor Ratings made famous by StatFox are a great Team Strength Indicator as they provide a quantitative measure of how teams are outplaying (+ value) or being outplayed by (- value) their opponents. They are determined by a complicated formula that takes into account a team's points for/against as compared to how their previous opponents have fared. Here are the StatFox Team Outplay Factor Ratings and the corresponding game lines derived from them. Note that the point edge between the Outplay Factor Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Buccaneers lost and failed to cover despite hosting a St. Louis Rams team that was starting Austin Davis at quarterback in Week 2. The Falcons went to Cincinnati, where they lost 24-10 as 5.5-point underdogs. Expect the Bucs to try to slow the game down in an effort to avoid getting into a shootout against Atlanta quarterback Matt Ryan and his group of talented receivers. Tampa Bay has won-and-covered in two of the last three meetings, and the Buccaneers are 5-2 ATS over their past seven games at Atlanta. Bucs RB Doug Martin (knee) is questionable after having missed Sunday's game.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Texans blew out the Raiders in Week 2, winning 30-14 on the road. Arian Foster rushed for 138 yards and a touchdown in the win. The Giants, meanwhile, lost 25-14 at home against a Cardinals team that was coming off the late Monday night game near the West Coast and starting quarterback Drew Stanton in place of the injured Carson Palmer. They'll need to take care of the ball a lot better to avoid falling to 0-3 for the second straight season. The Texans' defense caused four turnovers against the Raiders last week and Eli Manning is already up to four interceptions on the season.

GAME BREAKDOWN: While the Vikings enter this one coming off a 30-7 loss to the Patriots in Week 2, the Saints were upset in Cleveland by the Browns, 26-24. Playing without star running back Adrian Peterson—it remains to be seen whether Peterson will suit up for this game, but early indications are that he will—Minnesota put the ball in the hands of QB Matt Cassel, who threw four interceptions. Expect the Saints to try to attack the Vikings through the air. This is the home opener for New Orleans, which was undefeated at home last season and failed to cover at home only once, in a 23-20 win as a 3.5-point favorite over the 49ers.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Ravens hammered the Steelers, 26-6, in a big Thursday night game last week. The Baltimore defense forced three turnovers while giving up 301 total yards. The Browns, meanwhile, came away with a 26-24 upset over the New Orleans Saints in Cleveland. Playing without starting RB Ben Tate, who is unlikely to play against the Ravens, the Browns relied on the rookie duo of Terrance West and Isaiah Crowell. Cleveland was also without starting TE Jordan Cameron, who is questionable this week with a shoulder injury. The Ravens had won five straight in Cleveland before last year's 24-18 loss as a 1-point favorite.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Baltimore 19

BETTING SYSTEM:

GAME BREAKDOWN: The last time the Packers played the Lions in Detroit was last Thanksgiving—Green Bay lost 40-10 as a 6.5-point underdog but was forced to play without star QB Aaron Rodgers. The Packers enter this one off a 31-24 home comeback victory over the Jets, who led 21-3 in the second quarter. Look for Green Bay to avoid testing Detroit's solid run defense and instead attack the Lions through the air. The Lions, who are coming off a 24-7 loss to the Panthers, will likely attempt to do the same against Green Bay's porous defense. Safety James Ihedigbo (neck) could return for the Lions in this one.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Jaguars were embarrassed by the Redskins in Week 2, falling 41-10. Jacksonville was unable to move the ball with any kind of consistency, finishing with a paltry 148 yards of total offense against a defense that hasn't exactly been dominant in recent seasons. Jacksonville's defense faces a tough task against Colts RB Andrew Luck, who threw three TD passes but a costly fourth-quarter interception in Indianapolis' 30-27 home loss to the Eagles on Monday night. Over the last three seasons, the Colts are 3-1 SU and ATS against the Jaguars. Last year they beat the Jags by a combined score of 67-13 in their two meetings.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Raiders have gotten off to slow starts in their past two games and sit at 0-2 after a 30-14 home loss to the Texans. Oakland has shown no semblance of a running game, and rookie quarterback Derek Carr will have his work cut out for him against a New England defense that allowed just 217 total yards and intercepted Vikings quarterback Matt Cassel four times in a 30-7 road victory. The Patriots were able to rely on their ground game, with RBs Stevan Ridley and Shane Vereen combining for 141 rushing yards on 31 carries. The Redskins were 3-10 ATS last year with Griffin at quarterback and 2-1 ATS once Cousins replaced him at the end of the year. The Eagles won-and-covered in both matchups between these teams last year, and they've won-and-covered both of the games they've played this year after Monday's 30-27 comeback road win over the Colts. The Cardinals were without quarterback Carson Palmer (shoulder) in a road matchup with the Giants, but they were able to come away with a 25-14 victory behind backup Drew Stanton. GAME BREAKDOWN: This is a rematch of the Super Bowl in which the Seahawks absolutely embarrassed the Broncos in a 43-8 shellacking. While Denver needed a late defensive stand inside its own 5-yard line to come away with a 24-17 victory over the under-manned Chiefs on Sunday, Seattle lost 30-21 in San Diego. Peyton Manning should have Wes Welker back from his suspension and the Broncos' offensive line is healthier in this year's meeting than it was in the Super Bowl. GAME BREAKDOWN: The Steelers went to Baltimore last Thursday night and lost 26-6 in an ugly offensive performance. Ben Roethlisberger went 22-of-37 for 217 yards and was unable to find the end zone while throwing one interception. They'll be tested against a Panthers defense that has been dominant to start the year. Carolina defeated the Lions, 24-7, in Cam Newton's season debut last game. They were able to shut down one of the best offenses in football despite playing without star defensive end Greg Hardy, who had been benched because of his domestic violence conviction.

The Jets, on the other hand, built a 21-3 lead over the Packers before suffering a 31-24 loss in Green Bay. Chicago quarterback Jay Cutler threw three of his four touchdown passes to WR Brandon Marshall and didn't throw any interceptions. StatFox Dave StatFox Dave is one of the original four founders of StatFox and over the years has been renowned for his handicapping prowess in all sports. Dave was especially strong in the college sports last season, posting a 55% ATS mark (38-31-2) in 2013 CFB Best Bets. This included a hefty 77% ATS record (17-5-1) on college football games that were not part of the marquee games grid above. Dave then went on to nail 62% ATS (70-43-2) in college basketball Best Bets, a record that was capped off with an astounding 74% ATS mark (14-5) for the NCAA Tournament.

StatFox Gary

StatFox Gary joined the StatFox and the Platinum Sheet staff prior to the 2010 football season, and subscribers were certainly happy he did: He proceeded to post a 55% success rate on NFL Best Bets in his "rookie" season. Gary finished strong in NFL Best Bets last season as well, going 67% ATS (16-8-2) after Week 9. He did the same thing in college basketball Best Bets with a 63% ATS mark (30-18) after Feb. 5 to finish with a 57% ATS record (64-49-2) in CBB Best Bets for the season. Gary was also 9-3-1 ATS (75%) in pre-October CFB Best Bets last season.

StatFox Scott

StatFox Scott serves as Managing Editor for StatFox, Platinum Sheet and the Edge Football Preview Guide. Scott really finished strong in all sports last season, first going 5-2 ATS (71%) in college football bowl Best Bets. Then for NFL Best Bets, he recorded a 59% ATS mark (33-23-2) after Week 3, and was outstanding on NFL totals all year at 56% (40-31), including a perfect 5-0 in the postseason games. His college basketball season also represented a huge finish, as Scott was 64% ATS (25-14-3) in college hoops Best Bets after Feb. 14.

StatFox Brian

A featured writer on Stat-Fox.com and for Platinum Sheet, StatFox Brian has yet to suffer a losing season of Platinum Sheet Best Bets in either college football or NFL since coming on board in 2010. Last year marked Brian's second straight 60% ATS (41-27-6) season record in NFL Best Bets, but it was his college basketball prowess that really stood out in 2013-14. Brian finished with a remarkable 69% ATS record (76-34-5) on college hoops Best Bets for the entire season, a mark that including an eye-popping 77% ATS record (44-13-4) after Jan. 17.

StatFox Forecaster

By weighing several key factors, including recent statistical averages, schedule strength and home-field advantage, the StatFox Forecaster has proven to be an extremely successful long-term handicapping tool. It's most accurate once a season is underway, as evident by winning records in all four sports' featured Platinum Sheet games last year. The Forecaster correctly predicted the ATS winner for 59% (149-105-12) of all NFL games, 57% (151-114-8) of all CFB games, 53% (207-181-12) of all NBA games and 51% (189-183-11) in college basketball last season.

StatFox College Football Power Rating Lines - Week 4

 The StatFox Power Ratings are determined from a formula that is takes into account several key factors, including point margins, difficulty of schedule, team statistics and more. The ratings are typically not as reactive as those you will find elsewhere, and thus prove to be a great long term handicapping tool. Here are the StatFox Power Rating lines and edges for this week's games, with our exclusive home field advantage points built into each home team's rating and corresponding line. Note that the point edge between the Power Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

Statfox College Football Outplay Factor Rating Lines - Week 4

 The Outplay Factor Ratings made famous by StatFox are a great Team Strength Indicator as they provide a quantitative measure of how teams are outplaying (+ value) or being outplayed by (- value) their opponents. They are determined by a complicated formula that takes into account a team's points for/against as compared to how their previous opponents have fared. Here are the StatFox Team Outplay Factor Ratings and the corresponding game lines derived from them. Note that the point edge between the Outplay Factor Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

GAME BREAKDOWN: This will be the toughest opponent the Wildcats have hosted since hosting Baylor last October, when they covered a 17-point spread in a 35-25 loss. They handled Stephen F. Austin easily, but had a tight one at Iowa State in their last game. They trailed deep into the fourth quarter in a 32-28 win. Auburn had little resistance from Arkansas and San Jose State, both at home, to open the year. They went 4-2 SU and 6-0 ATS away from home last season, though they were favorites in only two of those games.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Auburn	35
	Kansas State	30

• Gus Malzahn is 14-1 ATS after 2 or more consecutive straight up wins.
• Gus Malzahn is 9-1 ATS in road games.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The last time the teams met in Tampa it was a push on a touchdown spread, and last year USF went north and won as four-point underdogs in Paul Pasqualoni's final game as UConn's head coach. The Bulls have played all three of their games at home this year, squeaking by Western Carolina and losing to Maryland and a truly bad N.C. State team, 49-17. The Huskies will continue to start QB Chandler Whitmore (49.3% comp.) with starter Casey Cochran's career-ending concussion problems.

GAME BREAKDOWN: When these teams matched up a year ago at Clemson it was supposed to be a test for FSU, but instead the Seminoles blew Clemson out, 51-14. The Tigers' offense, with new QBs Cole Stoudt and Deshaun Watson rotating, was uneven in their opener at Georgia; they were outscored 24-0 in the second half of a 45-21 loss. The Seminoles also opened the season with a tester, a neutral field against Oklahoma State. They won that game 37-31, but didn't cover. They are 6-2 ATS in Tallahassee in the Jameis Winston era.

GAME BREAKDOWN: LSU has owned the Bulldogs. Since 1997, the Tigers are 16-1 SU (including a current 14-game winning streak) and 14-3 ATS. Last year in Starkville, LSU scored the game's final 31 points to post a 59-26 victory. Mississippi State did manage to go 5-2 ATS away from home last year, though they were tested by UAB at home earlier this season. GAME BREAKDOWN: Michigan bounced back from an embarrassing loss to Notre Dame by beating up on Miami-Ohio, a 34-10 win with a shorthanded lineup (though not a cover). The Wolverines could be without top pass-catcher Devin Funchess (knee) again this week. The Utes are just 2-9 SU and 3-8 ATS on the road since the start of 2012. GAME BREAKDOWN: East Carolina snapped a four-game losing streak to UNC last September, when they rolled up 603 yards of offense in a 55-31 win. The Pirates have already played a tough early slate, hanging with South Carolina two weeks ago and knocking off Virginia Tech on the road last week behind a late touchdown by QB Shane Carden. However, Iowa was 4-2 SU and 6-0 ATS away from home last year. Pitt has overpowered opponents so far this year, including an impressive road win over BC. GAME BREAKDOWN: South Carolina caught some breaks in beating Georgia at home last week. But it was the Gamecocks' best performance of the year by far, as they put up an impressive 447 yards against a stout Georgia D. They've beaten Vandy five times in a row, though they've failed to cover the past two years. Vandy's season is off to a nightmare start, with blowout losses to Temple and Ole Miss. They squeaked by a bad UMass team last week, a game that would have gone to OT if UMass hadn't missed a late 22-yard FG attempt.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Georgia Tech has dropped four in a row SU against the Hokies, including last year when they were 7-point home favorites. They fattened up against an easy early slate, breaking in new QB Justin Thomas (7 total TD). After knocking off Ohio State in Columbus, the Hokies dropped a home game to East Carolina. They were torched for 427 passing yards in the loss, but have been excellent against the run all year. GAME BREAKDOWN: Oklahoma has beaten West Virginia SU both times they've played since the Mountaineers' move to the Big 12, but they failed to cover each time. That includes last year's ugly 16-7 win in Norman. However, both teams' offenses are hitting on all cylinders right now. West Virginia put up 694 yards of offense in last week's win at Maryland, their biggest single-game output since November 2012. GAME BREAKDOWN: Florida comes into their first road game of 2014 unbeaten but far from confident after a close call against Kentucky last week. Despite three takeaways, Florida still needed triple OT to beat Kentucky. Their new-look spread offense will be tested against the Tide, though Alabama did allow 365 passing yards to West Virginia earlier this season. Alabama was 4-0 ATS at home against SEC opponents last year. This will be the toughest matchup yet for first-year starting QB Blake Sims and new play-caller Lane Kiffin.

The Falcons had 571 yards of offense in a 45-42 shootout win over Indiana, though they looked far less impressive in losing a road game at Western Kentucky earlier this year. The Tigers allowed just 299 yards of offense and forced four turnovers in that win, and they are 8-1 SU and 7-2 ATS at home since the beginning of last season. Head coach June Jones resigned after the game. A&M have beaten the Mustangs each of the last three years, SU and ATS, including a 48-3 drubbing at SMU two years ago. They scored 38 against Rice last week despite a number of drops and less than 17 minutes of possession. QB Kenny Hill was pulled early in the lopsided win.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Texas A&M .... 48 Southern Methodist 21	• SMU is 6-0 ATS at home off a road loss over the L3 seasons. • SMU is 0-6 ATS in the first half of the season over the L2 seasons. • Kevin Sumlin is 33-18 OVER when playing with 6 or less days rest.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Virginia knocked off BYU as a home underdog in last year's opener, and they've looked good early in 2014. The Cavaliers had just 223 yards of offense in a 19-16 win over the Cougars last year. UVa covered against UCLA in the opener, and knocked off Louisville at home last week. They held a high-powered Louisville offense to just 282 yards last week. BYU was sloppy in last week's win over Houston, with three turnovers and a Hail Mary TD allowed, but they've outgained each of their opponents by 150-plus yards.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Virginia 11
	Brigham Young 38

• Bronco Mendenhall is 9-0 ATS at home when playing against team with a Win Pct. 60%-75% as coach of BYU.
• BYU is 8-0 UNDER after outrushing opponent by 150 or more yards last game over the L3 seasons.
• BYU is 1-9 ATS off a home win over the L3 seasons.

OREGON (-23½) vs WASHINGTON STATE

• (363) OREGON (SU: 3-0, ATS: 1-2) at (364) WASHINGTON ST (SU: 1-2, ATS: 1-2) - Saturday, 9/20/2014 10:30 PM

				TEAM OFFENSE						TEAM DEFENSE

GAME BREAKDOWN: Oregon has beaten Washington seven straight times, but they've also failed to cover each of the last four times they've played the Cougars. Wazzu has already lost to a bad Rutgers team and lost at Nevada; this could be one of the weakest teams they've had in years. Oregon failed to cover the last five times they've been favored by 15 points or more. Last week they were up 41-7 after three quarters against Wyoming, but failed to cover a 42-point spread after sitting QB Marcus Mariota for the fourth quarter.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Oregon 46
	Washington State 27

• Mike Leach is 24-6 OVER versus excellent offensive teams - averaging >=6.25 yards/play.
• OREGON is 7-0 ATS after scoring 24 points or more in the first half last game over the L2 seasons.
• OREGON is 9-1 ATS after 2 consecutive games with a turnover margin of +1 or better over the L3 seasons.

MIAMI FLORIDA vs NEBRASKA (-7½)

• (387) MIAMI (SU: 2-1, ATS: 1-2) at (388) NEBRASKA (SU: 3-0, ATS: 2-1) - Saturday, 9/20/2014 8:00 PM

				TEAM OFFENSE						TEAM DEFENSE

GAME BREAKDOWN: Both of these teams enter with question marks. Nebraska recovered from a close call against McNeese State with an easy victory at Fresno State, but that Fresno team hasn't stopped anyone this season. They're rolling up yards, but QB Tommy Armstrong Jr. has completed only 53.1% of his passes. Miami was crushed at Louisville in the season opener, and the Canes have since recovered with easy wins over Florida A&M and Arkansas State. However, they still turned it over five times combined against those teams.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Miami Florida 26
	Nebraska 38

• Al Golden is 8-0 ATS after a win by 21 or more points as coach of MIAMI.
• MIAMI is 8-0 ATS after a win by 17 or more points over the L3 seasons.
• Al Golden is 7-0 ATS away off a home win by 17 points or more as coach of MIAMI.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Two of the nation's best mid-major programs meet in this one. Boise laid an egg in its opener against Ole Miss in Atlanta, but have since looked solid in wins over Colorado State and at Connecticut. They've had to overcome a lot of mistakes; the Broncos are top 10 in the nation in penalties and penalty yards. The Ragin' Cajuns also faced Ole Miss, in a true road game, and were blown out 56-15. They were stunned at home by Louisiana Tech, a four-touchdown loss as 15.5-point favorites.

STATFOX FORECASTER:	Louisiana-Lafayette 24
	Boise State 37

• LA LAFAYETTE is 8-0 OVER after allowing 475 or more total yards in their previous game over the L3 seasons.
• Mark Hudspeth is 16-4 OVER after playing their last game on the road as coach of LA LAFAYETTE.
• Mark Hudspeth is 7-0 ATS away when playing a team with a winning record as coach of LA LAFAYETTE.
