GAME BREAKDOWN: The Texans had been 6-1 ATS against the Colts in these teams' prior seven meetings in Houston before losing 27-24 as a 1-point underdog last November—the Texans had led 21-3 at half before melting down with Case Keenum under center. They're now facing an Indianapolis team coming off a 20-13 home victory, and the Colts come into this one tied with the Eagles for the NFL lead in scoring at 31.2 points per game—they rank second in total offense with an average of 439.6 yards per game. Houston ranks 26th in total defense but fourth in scoring defense, giving up an average of just 17.4 points per game.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Panthers enter this one coming off a 31-24 victory over the Bears, a game Carolina had trailed, 21-7, in the second quarter. The Bengals went to New England on Sunday night and were blown out 43-17, but they've been a different team at home: Cincinnati finished the 2013 regular season 8-0 both SU and ATS, outscoring visitors by an average of more than 17 points per game. The Bengals picked up this year exactly where they left off, winning their two September home games in convincing fashion, 24-10 against the Falcons and then 33-7 over the Titans despite laying only 6 points in each of the two games.

BETTING SYSTEM:

GAME BREAKDOWN: Vikings rookie quarterback Teddy Bridgewater is expected to play in this one after a sprained left ankle kept him sidelined for the 42-10 shellacking Minnesota absorbed in Green Bay last Thursday night. Detroit, meanwhile, could be without both WR Calvin Johnson and RB Reggie Bush. Johnson has only three catches for 19 yards while playing through an ankle injury the last two weeks, and Bush injured his ankle in a 17-14 overtime loss to the Bills on Sunday. The Lions have just one straight-up victory over their past 16 trips to Minnesota, and they have only one ATS win in their past nine road games against the Vikings.

GAME BREAKDOWN: While the Broncos beat the Cardinals 41-20 on Sunday, the Jets were embarrassed in a 31-0 shutout at San Diego. Quarterback Geno Smith will start this one despite having been benched in the second half of the Chargers game. Denver QB Peyton Manning has not thrown an interception in his last five meetings with the Jets, which this season have allowed opposing quarterbacks to post a 107.5 rating—only the Redskins and Jaguars have allowed higher marks. These teams last met in 2011, when the Broncos won 17-13 as a six-point home underdog with Tim Tebow under center.

When these teams faced each other in the season opener, Cleveland roared back from a 27-3 halftime deficit to score 24 unanswered points before falling, 30-27. Oakland is coming off its bye week, a situation in which the team is 0-3 SU and ATS over the last three seasons. StatFox Dave

StatFox Dave is one of the original four founders of StatFox and over the years has been renowned for his handicapping prowess in all sports. Dave was especially strong in the college sports last season, posting a 55% ATS mark (38-31-2) in 2013 CFB Best Bets. This included a hefty 77% ATS record (17-5-1) on college football games that were not part of the marquee games grid above. Dave then went on to nail 62% ATS (70-43-2) in college hoops Best Bets. Dave is now 63% ATS (15-9) in NFL Best Bets, and 72% ATS in CFB marquee grid games the past 3 weeks.

StatFox Gary

StatFox Gary joined the StatFox and the Platinum Sheet staff prior to the 2010 football season, and subscribers were certainly happy he did: He proceeded to post a 55% success rate on NFL Best Bets in his "rookie" season. Gary finished strong in NFL Best Bets last season as well, going 67% ATS (16-8-2) after Week 9. He did the same thing in college basketball Best Bets with a 63% ATS mark (30-18) after Feb. 5 to finish with a 57% ATS record (64-49-2) in CBB Best Bets for the season. Gary is 64% ATS (18-10) in all NFL picks since Week 4, including 57% Best Bets.

StatFox Scott

StatFox Scott serves as Managing Editor for StatFox, Platinum Sheet and the Edge Football Preview Guide. Scott really finished strong last season in NFL Best Bets, as he recorded a 59% ATS mark (33-23-2) after Week 3, and was outstanding on NFL totals all year at 56% (40-31), including a perfect 5-0 in the post-season games. His college basketball season also represented a huge finish, as Scott was 64% ATS (25-14-3) in college hoops Best Bets after Feb. 14. In the past three weeks, Scott is 71% ATS (31-13) in all NFL games, including 10-2 ATS in Best Bets.

StatFox Brian

A featured writer on StatFox.com and for Platinum Sheet, StatFox Brian has yet to suffer a losing season of Platinum Sheet Best Bets in either college football or NFL since coming on board in 2010. Last year marked Brian's second straight 60% ATS (41-27-6) season record in NFL Best Bets, followed by an epic college hoops season. Brian finished with a remarkable 69% ATS record (76-34-5) on CBB Best Bets for the season, including an eye-popping 77% ATS record (44-13-4) after Jan. 17. Brian is 80% (12-3) in NFL Totals and 56% ATS (10-8) in NFL Best Bets this year.

StatFox Forecaster

By weighing several key factors, including recent statistical averages, schedule strength and home-field advantage, the StatFox Forecaster has proven to be an extremely successful long-term handicapping tool. It's most accurate once a season is underway, as evident by winning records in all four sports' featured Platinum Sheet games last year. The Forecaster correctly predicted the ATS winner for 59% (149-105-12) of all NFL games, 57% (151-114-8) of all CFB games, 53% (207-181-12) of all NBA games and 51% (189-183-11) in college basketball last season.

StatFox College Football Power Rating Lines - Week 7

** The StatFox Power Ratings are determined from a formula that takes into account several key factors, including point margins, difficulty of schedule, team statistics and more. The ratings are typically not as reactive as those you will find elsewhere, and thus prove to be a great long term handicapping tool. Here are the StatFox Power Rating lines and edges for this week's games, with our exclusive home field advantage points built into each home team's rating and corresponding line. Note that the point edge between the Power Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

Statfox College Football Outplay Factor Rating Lines - Week 7

** The Outplay Factor Ratings made famous by StatFox are a great Team Strength Indicator as they provide a quantitative measure of how teams are outplaying (+ value) or being outplayed by (- value) their opponents. They are determined by a complicated formula that takes into account a team's points for/against as compared to how their previous opponents have fared. Here are the StatFox Team Outplay Factor Ratings and the corresponding game lines derived from them. Note that the point edge between the Outplay Factor Rating Line and the actual opening line is denoted for the team with the edge. Use the W/L column to keep track of the winners and losers.

GAME BREAKDOWN: BYU hits the road one week after losing QB Taysom Hill (broken leg) for the season. Back-up Christian Stewart struggled badly in relief of Hill at home in last week's loss to Utah State. He threw 10-for-29 for 172 yards and 3 INTs as the Cougars' offense fell apart. UCF got its first win over an FBS opponent last week when they won 17-12 at Houston. They continue to struggle on offense though. In three games against FBS teams, the Knights have yet to surpass 300 yards of offense in a game.

STATFOX FORECASTER:

Brigham Young	29
UCF	29

- UCF is 7-0 ATS after playing their last game on the road over the L2 seasons.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Stanford has six consecutive wins over Washington State, but the Cougars have covered in each of their last two visits to Stanford. Last year in Seattle, the Cardinal knocked Wazzu QB Connor Halliday out of the game and cruised to a 55-17 win. Halliday had a record-setting day in a 60-59 loss to Cal last week, setting a new FBS mark with 734 passing yards. Stanford couldn't generate any offense in the rain in a 17-14 loss at Notre Dame last week. It was the first time this year they've allowed multiple TD passes in a game.

STATFOX FORECASTER:

GAME BREAKDOWN: San Diego State has been a two-touchdown-plus favorite against New Mexico in each of their last four meetings, but they failed to cover in any of those wins. Last year at home, the Aztecs held on for a 35-30 win despite allowing 253 rushing yards to the Lobos. New Mexico upset UTSA as a 16.5-point road underdog last week, forcing multiple turnovers for a third straight game. The Aztecs had just 270 yards of offense last week against a weak Fresno defense in a loss.

STATFOX FORECASTER:

GAME BREAKDOWN: Bama looks to rebound from an upset loss at Ole Miss, the fourth straight game away from home in which they lost ATS. Their new-look offense failed to get 500-plus yards or 30-plus points in a game for the first time this season. When these teams met in Tuscaloosa last October, the Tide dominated in a 52-0 win, outgaining Arkansas 532-256, their second straight 52-0 win over the Razorbacks. Though this year's Arkansas team is much improved. They pushed Texas A&M to OT on a neutral field in their last game.

STATFOX FORECASTER:

GAME BREAKDOWN: Points could be at a premium. A year ago, LSU beat the Gators 17-6 in Baton Rouge. Last week at Auburn, LSU started true freshman QB Brandon Harris. He went 3-for-14 for 58 yards in a 41-7 loss, re-opening the QB competition with Anthony Jennings. Florida slipped by Tennessee last week, 10-9, scoring all 10 points in the fourth quarter after benching QB Jeff Driskel in favor of true freshman Treon Harris. But Harris could be unavailable Saturday; he was suspended pending investigation into a sexual assault accusation.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Seminoles make their first visit to the Carrier Dome. They're coming at the right time, as the Orange have lost two in a row SU and three in a row ATS at home, including a 28-6 loss to a Louisville team missing its starting quarterback last week. Cuse will be without QB Terrel Hunt (broken leg), with RS freshman Austin Wilson likely to start. FSU failed to cover in its two games away from home this season. A year ago in Tallahassee, FSU had no problem covering a 37-point spread in a 59-3 blowout of Syracuse.

Starter Will Gardner could return from injury this week, though the Cards rushed for 196.5 YPG over the last two games with Gardner out. Clemson has won and covered in each of their last five home games, and freshman QB Deshaun Watson has been outstanding in his two starts (351.0 pass YPG, 10 total TD, 1 INT), both Tigers wins as two-touchdown favorites (50-35 over North Carolina, 41-0 over N.C. State).

STATFOX FORECASTER:

GAME BREAKDOWN: Mississippi State is hot, winning at LSU and, last week, drubbing Texas A&M, 48-31, at home. The Bulldogs' offense has rolled up 500-plus yards in each of their five games. Auburn rushed for 298 in a 41-7 home win over LSU last week. But they've played only one other game away from home this year, a 20-14 dogfight at Kansas State. A year ago at Auburn, these teams were evenly matched. Auburn QB Nick Marshall engineered a last-minute TD drive—the Tigers scored with 10 seconds left for a 24-20 win.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Cincinnati looks to snap a two-game SU slide, and they'll have to do it without starting QB Gunner Kiel (chest). Kiel was hurt on the final play of the first half in last week's home loss to Memphis, though the Bearcats were already down 27-7 at that point. Former starter Munchie Legaux moves into the lineup. Miami struggled on the road again last week, losing 28-17 at Georgia Tech. True freshman QB Brad Kaaya has been better at home (8-to-3 TD/INT ratio) than on the road (5-to-6) this season.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Wisconsin has gotten little resistance from Illinois over the past few years. The Badgers have won four in a row SU (3-1 ATS) over the Illini, including last year's 56-32 win on the road. Wisconsin rushed for 289 yards in that game, and RB Melvin Gordon is averaging 231.0 rush YPG over his last three. The Illini have lost 10 of 11, SU and ATS, on the road. In their two Big Ten games, they allowed 458 rushing yards to Nebraska and 349 to Purdue. They'll be without QB Wes Lunt (broken leg), so Reilly O'Toole will likely start.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Last October, Missouri went to Athens as a touchdown underdog and beat the Bulldogs 41-26. Todd Gurley, UGa's star running back, missed that game. This season he is a Heisman contender, accounting for 175.0 rushing YPG and eight TDs in four games against Power Five conference opponents. Missouri was upset in their last home game, a 31-27 loss to Indiana. But they bounced back to upset South Carolina a week later, scoring two touchdowns in the final seven minutes of a 21-20 victory.

GAME BREAKDOWN: The Red River Showdown returns to Dallas, with Texas looking to build off last year's upset win. The Longhorns jumped out early and outgained the Sooners 445-263 in a 36-20 win, despite being two-touchdown underdogs. Texas comes in off a home loss to Baylor, but they did manage to hold Baylor's high-powered offense in check in a 28-7 loss. The Longhorns are averaging just 13.5 PPG over their last four. OU is coming off an upset loss at TCU, 37-33, and have allowed 300 passing yards in two straight games.

GAME BREAKDOWN: One week after upsetting Oklahoma at home, TCU looks to knock off a Baylor team that has been nearly unbeatable in Waco. Baylor has won and covered in 12 straight home games; their last loss came the last time TCU, then a six-point underdog, visited. Last November, Baylor beat TCU on the road, 41-38, but didn't cover the 13½-point spread. The Bears had a season-low 370 yards of offense in that game. The Frogs overcame three turnovers and 12 penalties to knock off Oklahoma last week.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Last week Ole Miss upset Alabama despite getting outgained 396-323, their worst offensive output of the season. A&M, meanwhile, struggled on the road in Mississippi State. QB Kenny Hill has crashed back to earth after a fast start, struggling without top WR Malcome Kennedy (shoulder) in a 48-31 loss at Mississippi State. Hill also struggled in the Aggies' previous game, an overtime win over Arkansas. In Oxford last year, A&M allowed 329 passing yards but won 41-38 on a last-second field goal.

STATFOX FORECASTER:

Ole Miss ..... 29

GAME BREAKDOWN: A week after rallying against an excellent Stanford defense to stay perfect, the Irish get a much easier test when they host North Carolina. The Tar Heels have dropped three in a row SU, allowing 51.3 PPG during that slide. They were relatively improved on defense in last week's home loss to Virginia Tech, allowing only 34 points and 357 yards. Notre Dame is much more explosive on offense this season, and they would have had an easier time in the Stanford win if not for two missed field goals and heavy rain.

STATFOX FORECASTER:

North Carolina ..... 23
Notre Dame ..... 33

- N CAROLINA is 0-9 ATS in the first half of the season over the L2 seasons.
- Brian Kelly is 10-0 UNDER vs. poor passing defenses - allowing 250+ passing yards/game with NOTRE DAME.
- Brian Kelly is 38-15 UNDER when playing on a Saturday as coach of NOTRE DAME.

GAME BREAKDOWN: Arizona upended Oregon on the road last week, one game after beating Cal at home on a last-second Hail Mary. The Wildcats have allowed 300-plus passing yards in each of the last three games though. USC lost on a Hail Mary last week, at home against a shorthanded Arizona State team. They allowed 541 passing yards in the loss. Last year in L.A., the Trojans won a shootout in their first game after firing Lane Kiffin. USC outgained the Wildcats 546-508 and held off a late rally in a 38-31 win.

STATFOX FORECASTER:

GAME BREAKDOWN: Oregon has a five-game win streak against the Bruins and have covered in three of the past four meetings. Both these teams got tripped up at home as double-digit favorites last week. Oregon lost to Arizona and UCLA dropped a game to Utah; both teams allowed more than 200 rushing yards in their loss. Last October, Oregon wore down the Bruins in Eugene. The game was tied 14-14 at halftime, but the Ducks scored 28 unanswered points in the second half of a 42-14 win, finishing with 555 yards of offense.

GAME BREAKDOWN: For Michigan, losing SU to Utah, Minnesota and Rutgers would seem to be rock bottom. They seemed to get their offense back on track against a second-tier Rutgers D, but they allowed more than 400 passing yards to one of the Big Ten's weakest offenses. A year ago, Penn State overcame four turnovers to beat Michigan in four OTs, 43-40, at home. QB Christian Hackenberg and the offense has struggled this year. In a 29-6 home loss to Northwestern in their last game, the Nittany Lions had just 266 yards of offense.
